The chart above demonstrates clearly and logically that some obvious changes have taken place in terms of residents' health literacy in our country. In accordance to the figures in the diagram, the level of health literacy was 8.8% in 2012, compared with as many as 25.4% in 2021, roughly 16.6% up.

Obviously, a variety of complicated factors contribute to the phenomenon, with the following three being the foremost. Initially, it is generally acknowledged that this phenomenon is bound up with rapid advancement of China's economy and society, which has come to play an increasingly significant role in many aspects of daily life. Additionally, the current situation, to a large degree, results from the transformation of individuals' attitude towards health. Eventually, this trend arises because of the change of the Chinese government's relevant policies.

Taking all these driving factors and analysis into consideration, we may safely and naturally come to the conclusion that this trend will sustain for a period of time.

上图清晰而又有逻辑的表明:我国居民在健康素养上已经发生了一些明显的变化。根据图表中的数据,其健康素养水平在2012年是8.8%,相比之下,在2021年是25.4%,上涨了16.6%。

很显然,各种各样的因素导致了这个现象的发生,主要有以下三个原因。首先,大家都知道,这个现象和中国经济社会的快速发展是紧密相关的,它在日常生活的各个方面都发挥着越来越重要的作用。此外,当前的形势在很大程度上是由于人们对健康态度的转变。最后,这个趋势之所以会出现是因为中国相关政策的变化。

把所有这些因素都考虑进去,我们可以很自然的得出一个结论:这种趋势将会持续一段时间。
